INDIAN CHRISTIAN INVENTS INCUBATOR

"Heathenism Has Scarcely Produced an Invention Since Days of Abraham," says Bishop Warne of Methodist Episcopal Church—Chickens Hatched Successfully in Old Oil Can.

Heathenism has scarcely produced an invention for thousands of years—not since the days of Abraham—according to Bishop Frank Warne of the Methodist Episcopal church. He tells this interesting story of a man in an obscure village of India who invented an incubator:

"Several years ago I was in the home of one of our local preachers, whose salary was five dollars a month.
One morning he said to me, 'Come around behind my house. I want to show you something.' He opened a little door, the only opening in a little mud-walled hut. He asked, 'Can you see anything?' I peered through the dim and light and answered, 'I can see a pile of mud in the corner.' He replied, 'That is what I want you to see,' and bending down he pulled out a little drawer and out jumped a brood of real chickens. He stooped and pulled out a lower drawer and out jumped another brood of chickens. Then I learned that he had taken an empty five gallon Standard oil can and had cut it so as to put in two drawers. He had packed it with mud, so as to retain the heat, had put a thermometer on the top, had made a little piece of tin to project under each drawer and under that had placed a simple village light and the tin had carried just sufficient heat under each drawer to hatch the eggs. In short, out there in the villages, where non-Christians had not made an invention since the days of Abraham, this man invented a first class incubator.
I became so enthusiastic over it that I said, 'If you will let me, I will pay the expenses and have your incubator patented.' But he replied, 'No, I have lain awake nights thinking out this plan to help my poor Christians make a living. If it is patented the Hindus and Mohammedans will get it. So it was not patented.'

To Save Their Boy From Jail

"A wee lad of ten was placed in our boys' school because his parents feared he might follow the example of a criminal brother now doing twenty years penal servitude for murder and insurrection," writes a missionary in Tunis, North Africa. "Referring to her imprisoned son the mother pathetically said: 'I have not heard from my boy for months and I don't know where he is now. Sometimes I take out the clothes he used to wear and weep over them.' The fact that she should have known where to bring her boy to keep him safe is a real encouragement to missionaries working in the land."

The Rev. Charles D. Morris, a well known missionary of the Methodist Episcopal church has been presented with a silver cup by the Japanese Government, in recognition of his services in connection with road improvement in Pyongyang.

A church paper to represent all the denominations at work in Korea, is to be issued under the auspices of the Korean Religious Tract Society. The editor in chief is the Rev. Elmer M.
Cable.

In connection with the National Industrial Exposition at Seoul, Korea, under Government auspices, the missions have maintained with great success a daily evangelistic service, the same being held with the full consent of the Government. About 2,000 in-quirers so far have expressed their desire to become Christians as a result of these daily evangelistic services.

The national campaign of the Laymen's Missionary Movement is well under way. Meetings have been held in a number of the larger cities with pronounced success. If the present ratio of delegates is maintained for the seventy-five contemplated conventions, the total attendance will amount to 150,000 men. The Chicago convention broke all previous convention records in this country, having a registration of 4,556.

Twenty years ago it cost the Missionary Society of the Episcopal church $5,000 to send a missionary to Uganda. It was a journey of from eight to ten months. One year ten strong men died on the way. Today the journey can be made in twenty-four days and at a cost of $175. Then there was only one church building.
On the outside it looked like a great big barn, and inside like a forest of poles. Now there are two thousand churches scattered all over the land.
Then there was one native preacher; now there are 3,000. Then there were 200 converts; now there are over 100,000.

as they arrive from the mines, which are working day and night.
